

Mark Perong

Vice President

Mark Perong has over 41 years experience in the construction industry and has been employed full-time with R.J. Daum Construction since 1974. The grandson of the founder of the company, Mark has held several positions within the construction industry, from a laborer, estimator, and project manager, to his current position of Vice President.

Although Mark manages the daily operations of the company, he continues to work as Project Manager on special projects. A task that he feels is imperative to stay grounded with the current issues in the field, and to maintain an interactive relationship with our clients. Mark manages all the major contracts with Telecommunications companies, Utility companies, and college districts. He also has participated with our clients such as the Los Angeles Community College District, to serve on their committee for Union Labor Agreements.

Mark's outside interest include, boating, waterskiing, jet skis, golf, snow skiing, and exploring desert trails. He is a contributor to many charities, with a special interest in the Society of Mexican American Engineers and Scientists. His passion for the construction industry drives him to help the next generation of professionals to succeed. Mark is also very involved with the Susan G. Komen for the Cure Breast Cancer organization, with donations and sponsorships across California.
