

AT&T Helps Customers With Balanced 4G Deployment

AT&T

AT&T is the only wireless provider with plans to deploy speed upgrades to its existing mobile broadband technology – and move to the next network technology, LTE. This plan will give customers access to more consistent speeds and the ability to talk and surf simultaneously as they move in and out of LTE areas.

*Represents theoretical maximum downlink speeds of wireless technologies. Real-world speeds will be less and vary based on a number of factors.
