Don't be a victim.

Protect yourself.

Improve Online Security

- Use passwords with at least eight characters and include numbers or symbols. Get anti-virus software that updates automatically and install a firewall.
- If you receive an unexpected email from a company you do business with, don't click on the link provided. Instead, contact the company directly by phone or through its regular web address.
- Don't give out your email address without knowing how it will be used, and don't open an email attachment unless you are expecting it.

Manage Telephone Security

- Slamming is when your telecommunications provider is changed without your authorization. If you receive a phone call asking you to switch your phone service, and you are not interested in switching, just say, "No." Be cautious when filling out online forms, such as sweepstakes entry forms. You may unknowingly authorize a change in your phone service.
- To verify your long distance and local toll providers, dial the following numbers from your telephone (some providers do not have recorded information):
 - Call 1.700.555.4141 to verify long distance provider.
 - Call 1.your local area code.700.4141 to verify local toll provider.
- Caller ID and Call Waiting ID services deliver the name and number of a caller to a display unit or screen phone allowing you to decide whether or not you want to take the call. AT&T offers phones with the latest features to work with these services. To order services or phones, or for more information, go to att.com/features or call 1.800.288.2020.

Protect Your Calling Card Number

- No one from any telephone company or regulatory agency will ever call you to request your calling card number or ask that you accept charges on their behalf. Shield your calling card number when keying it into a pay phone, and speak softly if you give the number verbally.

Review Phone Bills Carefully

- Be sure you know the charge in advance for calling 800 and 900 numbers. Not all 800 numbers are toll-free. For more information on toll-free, 800 and 900 numbers, visit att.com/areacodes and select Frequently Asked Questions in the General Area Code Information section.
- You can access up to the last thirteen months of your phone bill at att.com/login or from the MyATT app on your smartphone.
- If you see unfamiliar charges on your bill, call the toll-free number listed on the page where the charge appears on your bill.

Get Advice or Report Suspected Fraud

- The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) offers information on consumer fraud issues; visit ftc.gov or call toll-free at 1.877.FTC.HELP (1.877.382.4357); TTY: 1.866.653.4261.
- For information on reporting suspected fraud, visit the National Consumers League's (NCL) National Fraud Information Center at fraud.org. For consumer advice, check out NCL's Web site at nclnet.org.

Manage Telemarketing Calls

- Don't believe unrealistic promises, act on impulse or pay a fee to collect something you've won. And never give a caller personal or financial information, such as a Social Security number, credit card or bank account numbers. Under federal law, you can tell a telemarketer not to call again and they must put you on their Do Not Call list.

Reduce Telephone Solicitations

To reduce telephone solicitation calls to your home:

- Register for the National Do Not Call Registry online at donotcall.gov or by phone at 1.888.382.1222 (TTY: 1.866.290.4236). There is no charge to register.
