

Traveling the world with your iPhone.

Important Information for iPhone Owners

Keep your bill predictable if you travel outside the U.S.

AT&T knows that the mobile Internet on your Apple® iPhone™ is indispensable to you. That's why we want to remind you that international data usage is not covered under your existing U.S. data plan.

Your iPhone provides access to email, Visual Voicemail, Web browsing and other applications that can use a significant amount of data. It's no surprise that you might find yourself using more data than you thought. The good news is that now, if you travel outside the U.S., you can save money on your international data usage by signing up for one of AT&T's newly created Data Global Plans with low rates in 65 countries.*

To verify whether your iPhone is set up for international roaming or to sign up for one of our plans, call 1-866-Mobility. For more information please visit att.com/wirelessinternational.

* For a list of countries, visit att.com/dataconnectglobal for current information.

Here are some easy ways to help you minimize international data charges when you travel outside the U.S.

- Turn Data Roaming "OFF": Be sure to download and install the latest version of iPhone software (version 2.0) from iTunes. By default the setting for international data roaming will be in the "OFF" position.
To turn data roaming "ON/OFF" tap on:
Settings > General > Network > Data Roaming
- Utilize WiFi instead of GPRS/EDGE: WiFi is available in many international airports, hotels and restaurants to browse the Web or check email.
- Turn Off Your iPhone's "Auto-Check" Function for Email: Data usage from email can accrue quickly. Check email manually using WiFi instead of having emails downloaded to your iPhone automatically. This way you can control the flow of data coming to your iPhone.
To turn off the Auto-Check functionality tap on:
Settings > Fetch New Data and select Manually
- Consider Purchasing an International Data Package: Purchasing an international data package will significantly reduce the cost of using data abroad when traveling to over 65 countries.*
- Reset the Usage Tracker to Zero: When you arrive overseas access the usage tracker in the general settings menu and select reset statistics. This will enable you to track your estimated data usage.

Voice and data usage outside the U.S., including data usage incurred from delivery of Visual Voicemail messages, will be charged at international rates. Data Global Plans for iPhone can be added to the Data Plan for iPhone for reduced data rates in 65 countries. Visual Voicemail messages received when roaming internationally are charged at international data pay-per-use rates unless the Data Global Plan applies, in which case receipt of Visual Voicemail messages will decrement kilobytes included in the plan. Substantial charges may be incurred if phone is taken out of the U.S. even if no services are intentionally used. Data Roaming toggle set to "OFF" will block data roaming and receipt of Visual Voicemail Messages outside the U.S., Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico with the exception of Guam or Northern Mariana Islands.
