

Anne H. Chow

Senior Vice President – Premier Client Group, AT&T Global Services

As Senior Vice President of the Premier Client Group (PCG), Anne Chow leads a national sales and support organization of more than 2,000 professionals responsible for delivering a full range of communications solutions, including mobility, networking, and applications services, to enterprise customers around the globe.

Representing one of AT&T's largest retail business markets with revenues over $9.5 Billion, PCG clients hail from virtually every industry ranging in size from Fortune 1000 companies to mid-market businesses. Anne and her team provide comprehensive account management that encompasses AT&T's entire portfolio for this vital group of customers, and she is also has P&L responsibility for this market segment.

A veteran of the industry for more than two decades, Anne has held leadership positions in engineering, sales, marketing, customer care, international operations, product management, and strategic planning. In 2005, she played a key role in the AT&T/SBC merger with overall responsibility for the Sales and Marketing integration planning effort.

Anne holds a Master's Degree in Business Administration with Distinction from The Johnson School at Cornell University, as well as a Bachelor of Science Degree and Master's of Engineering Degree in Electrical Engineering from Cornell University. She is also a graduate from the Pre-College Division of the Juilliard School of Music.

She was chosen to serve on AT&T's "T University" governing board, which supports the corporation's leadership development imperative, and is also an Executive Advisory Council member of the Asian employee resource group, Asian Pacific Islanders for Professional and Community Advancement (APCA).

Reflective of Anne's passion for motivational leadership, her weekly blog on tSpace, AT&T's internal social business platform, was voted as "Best Blog" by employees companywide. A long standing, active member of the community, Anne currently serves on the Boards of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce, the Asian American Justice Center (AAJC) and as a founding member of the National Board of Directors for the Asian and Pacific Islander American Scholarship Fund (APIASF).

Over the years, Anne has been recognized for her many contributions, including the YWCA-NYC Academy of Women Leaders, the Chinese Institute of Engineers' Distinguished Service Award, the 2009 Outstanding 50 Asian Americans in Business, as well as the Who's Who in Asian American Communities Leaders and Legends Award. In 2010, she was named as one of the Multicultural Power 100 by the National Diversity Council and was also highlighted by Sino Monthly as one of the 12 most influential Chinese Americans in New Jersey. Most recently, she has been named to the Committee of 100 and Cornell University's President's Council of Cornell Women.

Anne resides in New Jersey with her husband, two daughters, and a rescued (and spoiled) Australian Shepherd.
