SBC Yahoo! DSL is one the most affordable high speed Internet services available. New customers can subscribe to SBC Yahoo! DSL, for a limited time, for as low as $29.95 a month with a one-year term commitment.

Plus, when customers sign up they can purchase a wireless home networking gateway which will allow multiple computers to share the same DSL connection and give users more flexibility to access the Internet wherever they want within their home. New SBC Yahoo! DSL subscribers can get a Wi-Fi home networking gateway, regularly priced at $149, for just $50 after rebate. Best of all, unlike with other Internet access service providers, SBC customers are not charged an additional monthly fee for home networking or modem equipment.
